DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-5, 7-11, and 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of JP401321084A. AAPA discloses well known flange welding (Specification pages 1 and 2, Background Art). The mother member, or pipe, and the flange part are disclosed by AAPA, e.g., see Figures 4A and 4B. JP401321084A describes well known shaping of a bead pattern in order to improve weld strength and quality, e.g., see Figures 1-4. The use of a patterned weld bead in the AAPA flange process would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the patterns provide good weld strength and quality in lap welded material.

Claims 6, 12-15, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of JP401321084A as applied to claims 1 and 16 above, and further in view of JP411077353A.

JP411077353A discloses well known long-focus laser beam in combination with a mirror. The use of well known machining apparatus setup in a laser welding method would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the setup provides good beam positioning over a wide range of work pieces.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed September 18, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues the weld termination point is located at a place where no stress concentration occurs due to external forces on the pipe (mother member) and flange. This description does not differ from the bead pattern shown in JP401321084A in Figure 4 where the bead is repeatedly turned back and terminates on the earlier welded bead portion thereby requiring no external force for jiggling or clamping.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
